

CPRE Gloucestershire Awards

Do you know of any recently completed projects in towns, villages or countryside that are really outstanding and contribute to the quality the county's environment and the life of its communities?

Nominations are now welcome from any source for the CPRE Awards, but nominations should have their owner's approval.

Projects should: demonstrate innovations and sustainable best practice; improve the quality of the built or natural environment; help enrich local communities – and importantly must be seen from public places.

An independent panel of judges will assess all nominations: it is not a competition and all projects meeting the quality criteria will receive an Award.

Sly's Close, Northleach, affordable housing, 2015

Examples of some past awards include:

Community shops, village halls, nature reserves, community orchards, affordable housing schemes and heritage projects

All buildings must fit particularly well into their settings.

Vegetable Matters, Ebrington, farm shop, 2017
